Vlad Andrich is an accomplished civil litigation attorney with extensive experience representing a broad spectrum of clients in cases spanning professional malpractice, healthcare, intellectual property, employment and contract disputes, information privacy, and toxic torts. Known for consistently achieving favorable outcomes, Vlad has built a strong reputation for client satisfaction, earning numerous referrals as a testament to his success.

Vlad has successfully led dozens of bench trials and arbitrations, particularly in professional malpractice and workplace safety disputes, and has negotiated favorable settlements in many complex cases. Beyond his litigation expertise, Vlad provides strategic legal counsel on issues related to professional malpractice, workplace safety, intellectual property, information privacy, consumer protection, and data transfer laws, both in the U.S. and across Europe.

In the field of intellectual property, Vlad has advised leading companies on critical IP matters and played a key role in resolving global patent licensing disputes. He has also guided clients on IP monetization strategies, regulatory compliance, and FRAND licensing, helping them navigate the intricate legal landscape of intellectual property.

With a well-rounded background that blends litigation acumen with advisory proficiency, Vlad continues to be a trusted legal advisor to clients in both the public and private sectors, delivering solutions that align with their business goals and legal needs.
